All of our wines by the glass are served in a quartino, a new approach to "by the glass" wine service. The quartino is designed to evoke the casual wine service of Italy, while also offering guests an opportunity to experiment-and to drink better wine while doing so. A quartino is a small decanter that holds a quarter of a liter (thus the name). That translates to one-third of a 750 ml bottle, or about a glass and a half. If you don't wish to order a whole bottle of wine, or if some people in your party want one type of wine and others something else, then the quartino offers flexibility. Often times, guests will split a quartino or two of white wine with their appetizers, then move on to a bottle of red with their main course.
